Panelists: Dr. Hyla Cass, Patrick Holford, Markus Rothkranz, Chef Cherie Soria

- Dr. Hyla Cass and Patrick Holford present the Orthomolecular method of achieving Total Health, originally pioneered by Dr. Linus Pauling and Abram Hoffer, one of the most effective treatments for physical, emotional and mental problems.
- Cherie Soria presents the living food path toward Total Health. Raw, living foods contain all the enzymes and nutrients required for a reversal from disease to true healing.
- Markus describes the healing power of being in alignment with our highest good and how freedom and perfect health must encompass harmony with our life's purpose.

2. The Corporate Takeover of Food, Medicine & Water.

How Is This Happening & Why are We Allowing It?

Sunday, 12:00 – 2:00, Room 206

Panelists: Alan Cassels, Dr. Paul Connett, Mark Kastel, Jeffrey Smith

North America's foremost activists gather in this panel to discuss our food supply, our medicines and our water, and how we can bring our planet back to a sacred plan. Widespread degenerative diseases today are directly related to the toxins, pesticides, harmful chemical and genetically modified organisms introduced into our food supply and water without adequate testing. Inhumane factory farming practices, unsustainable agriculture and Big Pharma focus on profit, not long term health.

- Alan Cassels will discuss Big Pharma's chosen path to turn people into patients, focusing on the medical screening industry's use of screening to drive patients to drug therapy and consistently exaggerating the benefits and downplaying the risks of medical screening.
- Jeffrey Smith will review the government's involvement with the food industry and reveal the powerful economic forces that are aligned against sustainable farming methods.
- Mark Kastel will explain how corporate investments in industrial scale farms, monopolistic practices, and foreign imports adversely affect the organic farming movement
- Professor Connett will argue that water fluoridation is not based on sound science, describe how it can harm the body in a multitude of ways, and help you get fluoride out of your community.

2012 Prophecies from Ancient Records

Saturday, 11:00 – 12:00, Room 205

From the ancient Lemurian texts known as the Hamagda, the challenges of societal destructuring in 2012 are described as a cyclical and foreseeable cosmic sequence. The cosmic movement resembles a massive tube torus, or doughnut shape, that turns upon itself. The Ancients called this the in-breath and out-breath of God. A '2012 phenomenon' occurs when the Earth folds over the outer or inner edge of the tube torus of space and comes face to face with all unresolved issues. These consist of events that have not yet yielded their insights, creating karma. When experiences do not yield their insights, they beg for resolution by repeating themselves. This possibility looms in 2012. Although these doomsday prophecies could be seen as heralding cataclysmic events to come, there is a passage in the Lemurian text of Hamagda that offers great hope and an unexpected solution. Almine has translated these ancient texts to reveal this information about a New Reality.

Dean Bonlie, DDS

LAS VEGAS, NV

Dr. Bonlie is past president of the North American Academy of Magnetic Therapy and has been involved in full-time research and development in magnetism for the last 18 years. His scientific theory on the action of magnetism on living tissue has been validated by numerous studies, making him a widely accepted authority in the field of biomagnetism. Dr. Bonlie developed the only magnetic mattress that creates a properly restored field passing completely through the body as one sleeps and the "Magnetic Molecular Energizer" (MME) device. This is a large clinical magnetic device, weighing 10,000 lbs.,

being operated in Advanced Magnetic Research Institutes (AMRI's) in the USA. You can meet Dr. Bonlie and test the mattress at Magnetico, www.magneticosleep.com Booth 105.

How Magnetism & Magnochelation Extends Longevity & Quality of Life

Saturday, 11:00 – 12:00, Room 203

Our natural source of magnetism is the earth, but it is in an extremely depleted state. Restoration can be performed with man-made magnets, but the application must simulate nature. Dr. Bonlie illustrates how environmental magnetism affects body performance at the cellular level. See how cell function can be enhanced or hindered by the direction of the magnetic field. Learn the consequences of our depleted geomagnetic field on health and wellness and how you can correctly supplement it with beneficial results.

Shawn Buckley, LLB

KAMLOOPS, BC

Shawn Buckley is a constitutional and criminal lawyer with expertise in the Food and Drugs Act and Regulations. He is president of Canada's Natural Health Products Protection Association (NHPPA), a non-profit organization devoted to protecting Canadians' access to natural health products. In 2010, the NHPPA launched its Three Part Action Plan to focus attention on Canadians' constitutional rights. This plan includes the Charter of Health Freedom (www.charterofhealthfreedom.org). The NHPPA is solely supported by concerned natural health products manufacturers, retailers and public advocates. www.nhppa.org Shawn is available for questions at Booth 212.

Personal Health Freedoms: A National Protest against Regulations that Force Natural Health Products Off the Market

Saturday, 5:00 – 6:00, Room 206

Sunday, 5:00 – 6:00, Room 206

Freedom of choice vs. government control in health care is a debate that has turned into a movement! Now natural health product manufacturers, practitioners and stores are protesting government regulations that are slowly dismantling a once vibrant industry. Shawn will discuss his current federal legal cases, the threats from within the industry, the recent enforcement of removing products from store shelves faster than ever before, and what Health Canada does not want the public to know. Join the movement that protects a very basic property right: that no one should tell you how to treat your body.

Hyla Cass, MD

PACIFIC PALISADES, CALIFORNIA

Hyla Cass, MD is a physician, psychiatrist and frequently quoted expert in the field of integrative medicine, women's health, and psychiatry. She combines the best of leading-edge natural medicine with modern science in her clinical practice, writings and lectures. She appears regularly as an expert in the field on radio, TV (including The Dr. Oz Show and The View), and in various publications including the Huffington Post. A graduate of UofT School of Medicine, she now resides in Southern California. www.cassmd.com Dr. Cass will sign books in Booth 503.

Women, Mood, and Hormones

Friday, 7:00 – 9:30 pm, Room 206. Workshop $30 Depression, anxiety, and insomnia occur more often in women than men, and are conventionally treated with medications, especially antidepressants. However, from a biochemical standpoint, these conditions are most often related to imbalances in hormones, brain chemicals, and the nutrients that act as partners or co-factors in their production. With a good history and appropriate laboratory testing, you can uncover the underlying cause, and correct it with the appropriate use of supplements (herbs, vitamins, minerals, amino acids) and even, bio-identical hormones.

Panel: Natural Living: Healing Yourself with Foods and Natural Supplements

Saturday, 12:00 – 2:00, Room 206

Nutrients for Mental and Emotional Health

Sunday, 2:00 – 3:00, Room 205

Do you want to have more energy, less stress, and better health? Rather than relying on caffeine, sugar, alcohol and other unhealthy products, you will discover why we crave these, and how to stay healthy, happy, and energetic naturally-- and more effectively. A psychiatrist practicing integrative medicine, Dr Cass will explain how anxiety, depression, addiction and other mental and emotional symptoms are related to imbalances in brain and body chemistry. She will tell you how you can take specific nutritional supplements, validated by research, that successfully address the root of the problem, minimizing or even eliminating the use of psychotropic medications.

Alan Cassels

VICTORIA, BC

Alan Cassels is a drug policy researcher at the University of Victoria, in British Columbia. He has produced several full-length feature documentaries for CBC Ideas, including "Manufacturing Patients," which deals with the subject of selling sickness. Alan has been immersed in pharmaceutical policy research for the past 18 years, primarily working on national and provincial studies of prescription benefit policies. His strong interest in the quality of health coverage has made him one of Canada's leading medical reporters. He has frequently reported on consumer health issues for magazines, newspapers and the CBC Radio program IDEAS. His book, Selling Sickness: How the World's Biggest Pharmaceutical Companies are Turning Us All into Patients was an international bestseller and published in 14 languages. His newest book Seeking Sickness (April 2012) tells you everything you need to know to make informed choices about medical screening.

PharmaKids: Children on Drugs

Saturday, 4:00 – 5:00, Room 206

From pre-born to pre-adult, our youth face a whole range of profound health issues made worse when they come up against the power of prescription drugs. Pregnant women are told to take antidepressants that we know can lead to birth defects in a fetus. Young boys who don't get enough exercise are given stimulants to keep them in their school seats. Unhappy teenagers are dangerously given antidepressants. Teenage girls are encouraged to take drugs for the sake of their complexion. The problems with pharmaceuticals in developing children form a pattern that is deeply troubling. Even as society rails against the use of illicit drugs in children, the medical system mindlessly encourages the drugging of our children as a normal part of their medical care. The daily intake by our children of potent prescription drugs represents a large uncontrolled (and ethically deranged) experiment on small humans who have little or no say in what is being done to them.

Seeking Sickness: The Misguided Hunt for Disease

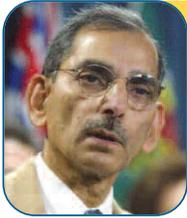

Sunday, 11:00 – 12:00, Room 206

Medical screening for prostate cancer, breast cancer, osteoporosis, high blood pressure, and other serious diseases and conditions seem to make sense, and some types of screening are indeed useful if done on the right person at the right time. Many other such tests are questionable, and can even be harmful. Alan Cassels will discuss the most common and recommended types of screening and weigh the pros and cons of each. Do mammograms save lives? Is a colonoscopy necessary for everyone? Is it worth it to fork out thousands of dollars for a whole-body scan? Cassels will discuss the role of practitioners and profiteers in selling us the mantra of “test early and test often.” In this discussion, he gives us the tools and information we need to make informed decisions about medical screening.

Panel: The Corporate Takeover of Food, Medicine & Water

Sunday, 12:00 – 2:00, Room 206

Shiv Chopra, BVSc, MSc, PhD, Fellow WHO

OTTAWA, ONTARIO

Shiv Chopra is a world renowned scientist, author, and public speaker. As a former employee of Health Canada for 35 years Dr. Chopra was Senior Scientific Adviser responsible for the regulatory evaluation of foods, drugs and vaccines, and principally involved in the safety-assessment of rubella, mumps and various other vaccines. Dr. Chopra was also involved in the human safety assessment of recombinant Bovine Growth Hormones (rBGH). It was due largely to his persistent whistleblowing efforts that rBGH was not approved in Canada. www.shivchopra.com Booth 213.

Politics of Super-bugs

Saturday, 5:00 – 6:00, Room 205

These bacteria have existed from the beginning of time, but they are becoming more and more resistant to antibiotics. As a result, patients catching these infections cannot be treated, and they are now causing uncontrollable infections in hospitals and nursing homes. They include organisms such as MRSA (methicillin resistant Staphylococcus aureus), VRE (vancomycin resistant enterococci), Clostridium difficile, Salmonella, Campylobacter, E. coli, etc. Dr. Chopra will discuss research from more than forty years ago that traced the source of MRSA and VRE to dairy cows receiving antibiotics to prevent mastitis. Other antibiotic resistant organisms have been traced to animals put on antibiotics to gain weight. By the early 1990s, the World Health Organization urged drug regulatory authorities across the world to discontinue such use of antibiotics in food producing animals, and yet their use continues unimpeded in both Canada and the USA to this day.

The Politics of Vaccines

Sunday, 4:00 – 5:00, Room 205

More and more vaccines are produced each year: vaccines against DPT, MMR, hepatitis, polio, flu, pneumonia, meningitis and other diseases. Starting in the mid 1950s, many new vaccines for children were launched without the required proof of their safety and effectiveness. In fact, serious side effects of vaccines, such as autism, Guillain Barré Syndrome, seizures, etc. are considered a necessary risk to prevent infectious disease. Even after decades of vaccination against diseases such as DPT, polio, measles, rubella and mumps, none of these diseases has been eradicated. The latest and the most controversial vaccine on the list are two different brands of HPV vaccine to prevent uterine cancer in females and penile or anal cancer in males. Severe adverse reactions, including death have been reported due to this vaccine. Refusing to receive them is regarded as irresponsible or even against the law. Dr. Chopra will discuss what parents can do to protect their children.

Brian Clement, NMD, PhD, LNC

WEST PALM BEACH, FLORIDA

Dr. Brian Clement as director of the renowned Hippocrates Health

Institute has developed a state-of-the art program for health maintenance, disease prevention and recovery. Dr. Clement has spearheaded the international progressive health movement for three decades. Today, people attend the Hippocrates Life-change program to conquer the premature aging process and live a life free of suffering and disease. From cancer to diabetes, from weakness to the signs of aging, the Hippocrates raw/living food program can bring you back to a full and happy life.

www.hippocratesinst.org Meet Brian at Booth 402.

Our Toxic World: Dealing with Disease and Cancer

Saturday, 1:00 – 2:00, Room 203

Dr. Clement will provide a blueprint for maintaining a strong immune system and a clear mind to enable you to begin your journey on the path to achieve optimum health. Why develop heart disease, cancer, diabetes? The epidemic of chronic, degenerative disease that is sweeping the western world can not only be stopped, it can be potentially reversed. The challenge lies in the hands of the consumer, in the choices we make.

Quantum Biology

Sunday, 1:00 – 2:00, Room 203

Dr. Clement will explain the future of biology and how it is based upon electrical frequency more than the matter-based principles currently employed. In helping tens of thousands fight the premature aging process, conquer disease, and prevent disorder, he scientifically validated that the body's electrical system is the foundation of the function of all the body's systems. He will explain how he and the Institute has employed noninvasive, cold laser, and electromagnetic therapies along with electrically charged living food to raise the body out of disease and into longevity. This seminar will afford you an opportunity to ask questions so that you can gain the same privileged knowledge taught at the Hippocrates Institute.

The Benefits of Raw Food: Anti-aging and Disease Reversal. Workshop $30

Sunday, 6:00 – 9:00 pm, Room 205

Dr. Clement will discuss disease prevention and healing yourself from life-threatening illnesses thought to be incurable, such as cancer. Come and learn how lifestyle changes, living foods, abundant energy and extraordinary nutrition protects cells from early death, promoting life extension.

Paul Connett, PhD

CANTON, NEW YORK

Dr. Paul Connett is a graduate of Cambridge University and holds a PhD in chemistry from Dartmouth College. Since 1983, he taught chemistry at St. Lawrence University in Canton, NY where he specialized in Environmental Chemistry and Toxicology. He retired in 2006. Over the past 26 years his research on waste management has taken him to 49 states in the US, and 54 other countries, where he has given over 2000 pro-bono public presentations. Paul Connett is executive director of the Fluoride Action Network, and co-author of The Case against Fluoride (2010). Ralph Nader said of Paul Connett, "He is the only person I know who can make waste interesting." www.fluoridealert.org Meet Paul in Booth 1027.

The Case Against Water Fluoridation

Saturday, 3:00 – 4:00, Room 206

Professor Connett will argue that water fluoridation is a bad medical practice, unethical and has never been supported with sound science. Furthermore, the evidence about fluoride in drinking water actually reducing tooth decay is very weak indeed; even fluoridation promoters concede that fluoride's predominant action on the teeth is topical, not systemic. Connett will also review the science that fluoride can harm the body in a multitude of ways and that there is simply no adequate margin of safety to protect everyone consuming fluoridated water. He will offer possible reasons why professional bodies and government agencies in North America continue to promote and defend the practice so aggressively.

Getting Fluoride Out of Your Water – Activism Workshop

Saturday, 6:00 – 9:00pm, Room 205

Join Dr. Paul Connett to learn how to communicate your concerns over fluoride to local politicians, dental and health officials. Be sure to attend this very important workshop to find out how to counter their pro-fluoride stance and help you get fluoride out of your community. ■ Learn how Calgary, Waterloo and other cities have been successful at stopping fluoridation; ■ Find out how to approach pro-fluoride city councilors; ■ Learn Referendum: Pros and Cons; ■ Find out how to Get Citizens Involved.

Panel: The Corporate Takeover of Food, Medicine & Water

Sunday, 12:00 – 2:00, Room 206

Ten Toxins We Must Get Out of Our Lives

Sunday, 3:00 – 4:00, Room 206

Professor Connett will discuss a list of substances and practices that we need to eradicate from our lives. Two of these have involved him in many years of campaigning: dioxins and fluoride. Dioxins entered his activities in 1985 when he began his fight against municipal waste incineration. Fluoride entered his life in 1996 when he began his battle against water fluoridation, an activity that culminated in the publication of The Case against Fluoride (2010). Concerns about the other eight toxins have emerged while battling incineration and fluoridation. At least one of these might surprise you.

Exploding the Myth of Alternative Medicine

Saturday, 4:00 – 6:00pm, Room 203

Based on her working relationship with many innovative medical scientists, Helke will discuss the question: "What exactly is alternative medicine?" and provide some surprising answers to that question. She will show why the polarization between "mainstream" and "alternative" medicine is in fact not true but a very dangerous but useful myth nurtured by those forces in healthcare that are the least likely to keep us healthy. In this two-hour seminar she will show a 35-minute draft of a documentary film still in the making by an award-winning filmmaker on how medical regulatory authorities in Ontario are preventing good medicine from being available. She will also discuss her new book, Seeking Dr. Goodenough in the Deathtrap of Medical Regulation (Kos 2012).

Alissa Hamilton, PhD, JD

TORONTO, ONTARIO

Alissa Hamilton is an independent scholar and international authority on food labeling issues. She is author of the book published by Yale University Press. In telling the story of "100% pure" orange juice's rise to the status of a breakfast staple, the book reveals some of the causes and repercussions of the food buyer's general lack of knowledge about the production of popular processed foods. Alissa's articles have appeared in academic journals, magazines and online media sources. She has been a guest on the Dr. Oz show. She is now working on a project to reduce household food waste. Alissa will sign books in Booth 609.

Squeezed: What You Don't Know About Orange Juice,

The Case for a Right to Know How Our Food is Produced

Saturday, 4:00 – 5:00, Room 205

In Canada and the United States, federal regulations require the labeling of the contents and nutritional profile of packaged foods so we can make healthy food choices. However, foods are only "healthy" if they are sustainably produced. We therefore need more information about how food is produced—from the treatment of farm labour to the prevalence of cloning, irradiation and genetically modified organisms. Alissa makes a case for legislation that provides us with a right to know how our food is produced so that we can make choices consistent with a more inclusive concept of health.

Magda Havas, PhD

PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO

Magda Havas is associate professor of Environmental & Resource Studies at Trent University where she teaches and does research on the biological effects of environmental contaminants. In the 1970s, her pivotal research on acid rain led to international legislation protecting our lakes, forests and citizens. Her current research concerns the biological effects of electromagnetic pollution, including radio frequency radiation, electromagnetic fields, dirty electricity and ground current. She also conducts research on sick building syndrome as it relates to dirty electricity in schools. She has co-edited three books and has published more than 130 papers. Her most recent peer reviewed studies indicate the harmful effects of living near wind turbines and the effects on the heart of radiation from a cordless phone. Dr. Havas has served as a member of the CBC Science and Technology Advisory Committee and numerous environmental advisory committees and as an expert witness in matters dealing with electrical pollution.

Electromagnetic Energy: Part 1:

The Perils of Electro-smog

Saturday, 2:00 – 3:00, Room 205

How do we explain increases in cancer, heart disease, diabetes, depression, chronic fatigue, chronic pain, sleeping disorders, cognitive dysfunction and infertility? Are these the diseases of civilization? Is there a connection between our increasing use of wireless technology, our exposure to electromagnetic radiation, and chronic ill health? Learn about the dangers of Wi-Fi, mobile phones, wireless baby monitors, smart meters, and cell phone antennas and learn what you can do to protect your health.

Electromagnetic Energy: Part 2:

The Promise of Electro-therapy

Sunday, 3:00 – 4:00, Room 205

All living organisms are electromagnetic beings. We have devices that can measure the electromagnetic energy generated within our body, for example the electrical activity of the brain (EEG—electroencephalogram) and heart (ECG—electrocardiogram). We have devices that use bioimpedance to map the internal terrain of the body, indicate imbalances, and determine such things as total body fat content. We also have devices that generate a pulsed electromagnetic field (PEMF) that can be used to help the body heal itself. These PEMF devices have been used to heal bone fractures, reduce symptoms of depression, relieve pain and inflammation, and enhance functioning of the immune and circulatory system. More recent studies show they may enhance the growth of stem cells. Learn about PEMF technology and its promise as a form of electro-therapy.

Dr. Ibrahim Karim, PhD, DrSc

CAIRO, EGYPT

Dr. Ibrahim Karim is a prominent Egyptian architect and natural scientist, known throughout Europe and the Middle East as the founder of the modern science of BioGeometry®. BioGeometry explains for the first time the secrets of "Nature's own Design Language": How specific Shapes, Movements, Colors, Sounds, Angles, and Proportions create precise vibrational information which affects the health of all living beings. Dr. Karim is the former head of the Egyptian National Research Centre's project on The Effect of Geometric Forms on Life Functions. He has created an effective solution to the problem of Electro-Magnetic Field (EMF) pollution and human electro-sensitivity, using precise geometric forms to change the vibrational characteristics of EM waves.. In 2010, Dr. Karim published Back to a Future for Mankind.

www.biogeometry.com Meet Dr. Karim for book signing in Booth 214.

The Solution to Electromagnetic Pollution:

Egyptian Biogeometry

Saturday, 1:00 – 2:00, Room 205

Dr. Karim has created an effective method to transform the harmful health effects of EMF, through precise shapes which change the vibrational characteristics of any electrical field or device. This method can be applied at any scale, from a single electronic device to entire homes or offices, or even entire cities. In this rare Canadian appearance, Dr. Karim will explain the principles behind his work, including how it can be applied to your own home or office. For many people, BioGeometry has been the missing key which has allowed them to reclaim their health after years of suffering from EMF and other environmental factors.

Egyptian Biogeometry:

The Vibrational Keys to Life and Health

Sunday, 12:00 – 1:00, Room 205

Dr. Karim will reveal the hidden vibrational forces which create and sustain all life and health, based on his 40 plus years of intensive research in Cairo, Egypt. He will describe the lost energy science of Ancient Egypt, the breakthrough discovery of the three specific vibrations which balance all life functions, the "BioSignature" system of energy movement patterns in the human body which sustain all internal organs, how harmful radiations from EMF or even nuclear sources can be transformed through precise vibrational fields, his work with the Egyptian National Research Centre, and much more! A rare opportunity to learn about the invisible forces which affect our health, and how BioGeometry can be used to improve your quality of life.

Mark Kastel

CORNUCOPIA, WISCONSIN

Mark Kastel is co-founder of the Cornucopia Institute, a food and farm policy research group based in Cornucopia, Wisconsin, one of the country's preeminent organic industry watchdogs. He is director of its Organic Integrity Project. The institute's goal is promoting economic justice for family-scale farmers and protecting market access to "authentic" food for consumers. His professional experience includes political consulting and lobbying on behalf of family farm groups and business development work benefitting family-scale farmers. Kastel, who worked for corporate agribusiness before making the paradigm shift to sustainable farming, lives on an organic farm in the rugged hills of southwest Wisconsin. www.cornucopia.org Meet Mark in Booth 213.

The Corporate Takeover of Organic Agriculture: Who Really Owns the Organic Label and Controls Fresh/Local Food?

Saturday, 2:00 – 3:00, Room 206

Mark Kastel, perhaps the most provocative voice in the organic community, will discuss how farmers and consumers can join together to protect the integrity of the organic label. Will corporate investments in industrial scale farms, monopolistic practices, and foreign imports separate the organic farming movement from the environmental, animal husbandry and social justice ethics consumers believe they are supporting? In order to protect us from the fallout from factory farm livestock production (E. coli, salmonella), will federal and state government partner with agribusiness to mandate that all fresh food be sanitized or sterilized before sale? Kastel will have some answers followed by a town hall style discussion. Corporate agribusiness and the USDA seem to have one clear goal: to produce the cheapest possible food, regardless of quality, and if contaminated, use technology (irradiation, fumigation, heat treatment, etc.) to fix production problems after the fact. This talk will give you and your family the knowledge necessary to choose your food wisely in the marketplace and protect family farmers.

Local, Healthy, Sustainable Food Systems: Hyperbole or Sensation?

How the Choices We Make in the Grocery Impact Our Health, Our Environment, and the Economic Vitality of Our Communities

Sunday, 2:00 – 3:00, Room 206

It costs more to choose local and certified organic foods. But there is a big payback---in terms of superior health and savings both for our families and the health-care system. We can't afford not to eat organic food! Mark Kastel, will lead a town hall discussion documenting research that shows that not only does toxic agrichemicals contamination of our food ruin our health, but possibly more importantly, the shift to industrial agricultural techniques, over the last 65 years, has resulted in food that is measurably lower in essential nutrients. Don't panic--- go organic! Kastel will provide us tools and analysis that will help us justify and afford the safest and nutritionally superior food.
